

wisconsin residents are fully capable of making their own decisions at the State level. The "no call" list has been overwhelmingly supported in every poll I have seen. Most importantly, it has been approved by our elected representatives. This attempt to change it is nothing but an end run that will not benefit the consumer and is not in the democratic tradition of participatory government. Thank you.